HINES/ARCHSTONE TO UNVEIL ITS 850 MILLION DOLLAR CITY CENTER CONSTRUCTION PROJECT AT THE 2009 WASHINGTON DEVELOPMENT SUMMIT.

The 2009 Washington Development Summit will kick off with exciting news for Certified Business Enterprises about the City Center DC Project. During the pre-summit reception on Tuesday, March 3, 6:30PM at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center, you can mix and mingle with project representatives on the Concourse near the Metro entrance to the Convention Center. The development team of Hines | Archstone will introduce their newly hired General Contractor for the project. Enjoy refreshments and live music while you learn about the first bid packages and the construction schedule for this fast-track project.

Hines | Archstone is the master developer for the $850 million mixed-use project. Located between New York Avenue and 9th, H and 11th Streets in downtown, the project will deliver a pedestrian-friendly neighborhood with more than 350,000 square feet of retail; more than 670 apartment and condos including at least 134 units of affordable units; 465,000 square feet of office space and parks and entertainment areas – a combination that will make the site a live/work/play environment unlike any other in DC.

Don't miss your chance to meet the team behind this mega project at the 2009 Washington Business Summit. This is an annual opportunities summit for local, small disadvantaged business owners that are involved in real estate development, architecture and engineering and construction. Sponsored by the DC Department of Small and Local Business and the Washington Industry Council, the Summit features informative keynote speakers, expert panels, business resources and unprecedented networking opportunities.
